Private high schools are a great option for many students. They meet the same regulatory requirements as public schools, but offer additional services and resources to students. Many private schools have state-of-the-art facilities, individualized teaching approaches, diverse academic programming, near-perfect post-secondary education placement rates, and stellar satisfaction rates from both students and their parents.

Multiple campuses across Ontario & internationally

Blyth Academy's doors first opened in Ontario in 2002, making it one of Canada's newer private schooling options. However, in their short history, Blyth Academy has already grown to 14 campuses across Ontario, a handful more around the world (USA, Qatar, Italy), and an impressive online-study hub. Their model appeals to the modern learner, as it affords students an unparalleled opportunity to customize their schooling for what fits their needs best: flexibility, global opportunities, and best-in-class teaching.

Besides their small average classroom size (seven students) — which allows learners to really break out of their shells — Blyth Academy offers students the option to study anything from regular Ontario high school curriculum to Advanced Placement-level
